THE CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.

The anti-Stewart Department of the Virginia & Truckee Railroad Company, through its organ, the Carson News, has accepted the JOURNAL'S challenge to prove one in fifty of the charges that they are making against Senator Stewart. In another column are these charges, the total proofs which the combined wisdom of the cabal could bring to bear in support of them, and the JOURNAL'S dignified reply to them. We have said before that the charges against Senator Stewart were pure and base fabrications, of such substance as demagogues' dreams are made of—irreprehensible horrors, stupendous revelations, which, when probed, let out only their originators' wind. We submit to a candid public that we have exploded these first five charges presented by Senator Stewart's opponents. And we call for more.

What the JOURNAL has long wished was the appearance during the campaign of sufficient courage upon the part of Senator Stewart's traducers to put their assertions in the form of charges, upon the truth of which are they willing to stand or fall. It seems now that they have been goaded by the frequent challenges of this paper to that point. As the result we have the five paramount charges presented in the last issue of the News.

And we still insist that reputations for veracity will be at a premium among the opponents of Senator Stewart before this campaign is over.

SEASONABLE QUERIES.

Here are a few questions we propound to the Carson News and Virginia Enterprise:

1. Why should the people of Ormsby, Storey and Washoe counties be compelled to pay three times as much for fares and freights over the Virginia & Truckee Railroad as charged for similar services by the Southern Pacific?
2. Why is it necessary for merchants in Virginia, Carson, Gardnerville and Reno to haul merchandise by teams instead of shipping by the V. & T.?
3. Why does the V. & T. discriminate in favor of one wood company and against all others in shipping wood to the Comstock?
4. Why does the V. & T. run the Enterprise at an acknowledged loss amounting up to more than $11,000?
5. Why does the V. & T. attempt to evade its just taxes to the State and counties through which it passes?
6. Why should not the V. & T. be compelled to pay back to the counties of Storey and Ormsby, and to the Comstock mining companies, the $987,000 granted it in subsidies, with interest, the same as the Government is compelling the Central Pacific to refund the money loaned it?

ANOTHER CANARD.

Yesterday a rumor gained credence on the street to the effect that Congressman Francis G. Newlands had announced his intention of entering the Senatorial contest against Stewart. This rumor gained color from the fact that it is widely known that Stewart in an underhanded way is doing all in his power to injure Newlands.—Enterprise.

Will the Enterprise kindly specify when, where and in what manner Senator Stewart has been "doing all in his power to injure Newlands." Certainly not in any public speech that he has made, certainly not in any private speech of which we have heard. Certainly not through any of his friends that we have ever talked with, and certainly not through any newspaper owned by him or owned by any corporation in which he is largely interested, for there are none. Will the Enterprise kindly specify?

THEN AND NOW.

In a speech delivered by Hon. Wm. Woodburn at Winnemucca Saturday, October 16, 1898, and published in the Silver State the following Monday, that gentleman, who has recently asserted that Senator Stewart knowingly voted to demonetize silver in 1873, is reported to have said:

"He (Mr. Woodburn) apologized for the carelessness of Congress and the President in the year 1873, by stating that the members who passed the bill, and President Grant, who signed it, did not know that it demonetized silver, and while conceding that it was passed by fraud, accident or design, thought the Republicans should not be blamed for it."

FIRST IMPRESSIONS OF RENO.

How the Life and Appearance of our City Struck Rev. G. H. Jones on his Arrival Here.

The evening train landed me in Reno on the 23rd of September. Commercial Row was thronged with men, the scene reminds me of Helena, Montana, as it was twelve years ago. An energetic hackman was crying out: "All aboard for the battle of Manila." And as the number of passengers were not sufficient to satisfy him, he keeps crying: "We're a goin' any way, all aboard if you want to get there." I took this as the key-note of the town, "We are going any way, all aboard if you want to get there."

These words seemed painted upon the faces of the citizens. Afterwards when I had the pleasure of meeting some of the numerous candidates for office, I saw also both by their manner and words that the hackman's cry had become their motto. The good-natured proprietor of the Riverside Hotel had caught the same spirit. I was much pleased with the treatment I received at this house; the dining room is a model, the waiters are attentive and pleasing, the food is appetizing, and if I had remained much longer I might have added avoidpouls to my wasted frame.

On Saturday, the genial friend, Rev. F. C. Lee, took myself and family in a carriage to view the city. I was much pleased with the evident marks of prosperity on every hand. The only disagreeable thing that we encountered was a freight train of the Central Pacific, blocking the road on one of the public streets, but I reflected that this could easily be prevented, an ordinance from the City Council would be sufficient to make even this great company "move on and clear the track."

I was especially pleased with the site of the University of Nevada. The grounds are of such a character that in the coming years there will be added to the magnificent plant, a University that shall command the respect and esteem of every inhabitant of the State. The President appeared to be a genial cultured gentleman. I did not have the pleasure of meeting many of the students, or any of the faculty except the President.

As I retired from my first ride through the streets of Reno, the impression the hackman's cry made on me, when I first set foot in the place seemed confirmed.—"We are going any way, all aboard, if you want to get there."

G. H. JONES.

"Have you made up your mind just what qualities you expect to find in a husband?" asked the matron.

"Why, of course," answered the maid.

"Too bad," commented the matron with a sigh.

"Why do you say that?" demanded the maiden.

"Oh, I always hate to see young girls disappointed," answered the matron.—Chicago Post

So Kindly Considerate.

"Why is it," the daring young man asked, "that your daughter still wears such short dresses?"

"Oh, I keep her dressed that way," Mrs. Giddibus answered, with a beautiful blush, "because if she had long skirts on people would think she was my sister when they saw us together. I have no wish to conceal the fact that I have a daughter who is as tall as I am."—Cleveland Leader.

ONE IN FIFTY.

THE ANTISTEWART COMBINE FORMULATE FIVE CHARGES.

THE "JOURNAL" EXPLODES THEM AND CALLS FOR MORE.

The JOURNAL's challenge to the opposition to Senator Stewart to prove one in fifty of the charges made against him has smoldered on the Carson News to make an exhibition of its peculiar ideas concerning proofs. The JOURNAL has long labored under the belief that the party bringing charges should prove them by other than its own bald assertions. If the JOURNAL should recklessly charge that the editor of the News was a truthful gentleman, it seems in all fairness that the burden of proving the allegation by competent evidence should be upon us, instead of forcing the accused to appear in his own defense. It is the spirit of the law, at least, that everyone charged of anything is considered innocent until proved guilty. The JOURNAL did not call upon the opposition to Senator Stewart to make more charges upon its mere dictum, but to prove something. It showed where competent evidence with reference to Senator Stewart's Congressional career was to be found, and challenged those who had filled the papers with reckless assertions to prove something. They have not yet done so.

A Southern Member of Congress who was charged by an opponent upon the floor with some action which was as false as it was ridiculous, made this immortal reply: "I deny the allegation and I defy the alligator." Until Senator Stewart's opponents produce proofs in support of what they assert, he can not only well afford to defy the "alligators," but to treat them with the contempt due to scandal mongers. Perhaps the Carson News has not yet learned that what raises charges affecting the public or private record of a man from the domain of scandal to the dignity of serious accusations, are proofs.

With reference to the News' demand that the JOURNAL publish its charges "as they are made, without alteration and in full," we will do so in every case where they are accompanied with any evidence having the slightest squint towards proof, provided that the News will publish our replies to them. And as an evidence of the courage of its convictions we challenge the News to publish the replies to its five alleged charges contained in this article.

With reference to the first charge, we submit that it contains not a single paragraph, line or word, in the nature of proof. It depends entirely upon the unsupported reputation for veracity of the editor of the paper publishing it, and we do not admit that that is competent. The editor of the News is not an official of the Bullion and Exchange Bank. Let some official of that bank verify that charge by affidavit. Then we will not only publish it but will open some batteries in reply to it. Until that is done we shall dismiss it with the simple brand that it is a clumsy falsehood, which reflects far more seriously upon the character of the Bullion and Exchange Bank and its fiduciary relations to depositors, than upon anyone else.

SECOND CHARGE. Charge 2. The News is informed that Senator Stewart in his speech in Dayton made the statement that the establishment of the Government building in Carson City was due to his efforts. The News charges that this is false. The papers were drawn, the lot was selected and the appropriations for the Government building were made in April, 1898, and Senator Stewart was not then in Congress and was not until March the following year. A good way to settle this would be to pull the records.

A good way for the News would be to ascertain whether its information is correct before it spends any of its intellectual force in attacking what may prove to be only a chimera of its imagination. Senator Stewart stated in Dayton doubtless what he stated in Reno, that Mr. Cassidy secured the first appropriation for the Carson public building, but that, as is well known, this appropriation fell short of completing the building, and Senator Stewart secured an additional $38,000 to finish it.

THIRD CHARGE. Charge 3. Senator Stewart is quoted in the JOURNAL containing the charge as saying "I have in every instance followed the direction of the party platform and the State Legislature." The News charges that he is a "no such thing," for in 1895 the Legislature of Nevada passed a resolution instructing the Representatives at Washington to "demand the collection of the indebtedness of the Pacific railway companies, in accordance with law."

The consummate ignorance of the opponents of Senator Stewart with reference to facts is nowhere better shown than in such charges as the foregoing. On the 7th of July of the present year an Act was passed which provides: That the Secretaries of the Treasury, Interior and Attorney General shall constitute a commission with power to settle the indebtedness of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, subject to the approval of the President of the United States. That the commission shall not agree to accept a less sum than the full amount due the United States and all amounts necessary to reimburse the United States for money paid for interest or otherwise." That in any settlement which may be made, the final payment shall not be postponed to exceed ten years, and that the whole amount, principal and interest, shall be paid in equal semi-annual installments within that period, with interest at a rate not less than three per cent. Under the terms of this Act it is mandatory that the Central Pacific Railroad must pay an average of over $3,500,000 every six months into the Treasury of the United States for ten years. The Act further provides that if the railroad does not accept the terms and conditions imposed, on or before July 7, 1899, the Government shall immediately foreclose.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

This Act originated in the Senate of the United States, and was drawn up by Senator White of California and Senator Morgan of Alabama, two of the greatest opponents of the Central Pacific railroads who ever sat in the Senate. Senator Stewart, in accordance with the resolution of the State Legislature quoted by the News, voted for this measure when offered as an amendment to the Deficiency bill, and for the bill itself upon its final passage. So another scandal is exploded.

FOURTH CHARGE. Charge 4. That in the same year and resolution as above mentioned the same body requested Nevada's representatives to "demand the enforcement of the Interstate Commerce law everywhere, so that unjust discrimination could be prohibited."

Assuming that the foregoing was intended to convey the idea that Senator Stewart had in some manner failed to comply with the letter or spirit of the resolution, we shall present some facts in this case also.

The Interstate Commerce Act became a law before Senator Stewart took his seat in the Senate in 1897. Since the passage of that measure, the regulation of freights and fares has been out of the domain of Congress. It is the Fourth Section of that Act, known as the long and short haul clause, in which the people of Nevada are so deeply interested. Soon after the passage of the Act a test case arose which was to determine whether or not the commission had power to enforce the Fourth Section. The case was entitled "Interstate Commerce Commission vs. The Alabama Midland Railway Company and others," and was carried through all the courts. The final decision of the Supreme Court of the United States was handed down November 8, 1897, less than one year ago, adversely to the contention of the commission, and leaving that body, as expressed in its report, "shorn of its powers." The effect of this decision can best be understood by quoting from the last annual report of the commission, (page 43) "It is evident that the railroads well enough understand the effect of this decision. Within five days from the reading of its opinion by the Supreme Court, the Transimissouri Freight Bureau filed schedules raising the rates to intermediate points over more than 100,000 square miles."

It was due to this decision that the Silver party adopted the following plank in its platform:

"Certain decisions of the United States Courts having shorn the Interstate Commerce Commission of the authority and powers undoubtedly intended to be conferred upon it when originally enacted, we favor such amendments to the Act as will make it an effective protection to the people against discriminating tariffs."

Senator Stewart stands upon that platform, and if elected to succeed himself will be an active supporter of the Cullom bill (S. 3354) which embodies the amendments to the law suggested by the Interstate Commerce Commission and which will enable the people of Nevada to obtain relief from discriminating freight charges.

The Carson News should apologize for ignorantly charging Senator Stewart with the shortcomings of the Supreme Court of the United States.

FIFTH CHARGE.

Following is the last "charge" of the News, which we publish without comment as it reflects only upon its author:

Charge 5. The News charges that Stewart is feeble-minded and unfit to hold any position of trust or responsibility, and offers to prove it to the entire satisfaction of any commission, unprejudiced and fair, that can be selected. It will prove this charge entirely on statements made by Stewart, himself in open conversation on the streets of Carson.

APPENDIX. We continue to assert that reputations for veracity will be at a premium among the opposition to Senator Stewart before the campaign is over.

Robert M. Fulton left for the borax mines in the northern country yesterday morning.

MAN! MAN! MAN! Blue and Silver. We are pleased to learn that the student body of the University, having re-opened the discussion as to college colors have re-adopted the Blue and Silver which the first students enrolled long ago decided should, wherever be held, recall to the initiated their Alma Mater—the University of Nevada!

The reign of the Crimson and Yellow was brief. The colors proving unsatisfactory from a patriotic standpoint; being rather too Spanish for such "true blues" as our University young women and men and hardly typical of our State which can boast of little red or yellow but whose bluest of blue skies are the marvel of the tourist, while silver—don't we all just love silver?

Last but not least the ever loyal students feel that perhaps it was hardly fair to destroy the significance of the little blue and silver keepsakes of the (now) men and women who are glad of the return of the colors they so happily inaugurated.

Princeton has its Yellow; Harvard its Crimson; Yale the Blue; Stanford the Cardinal; Berkeley the Blue and Gold, while we duplicating none have a characteristic, beautiful and artistic combination of color. Three cheers and a tiger for our University—its students and the Blue and Silver.

Lincoln County.

Eugene Howell, Secretary of State reports Lincoln county as being one of the best and most prosperous counties in the State. A railroad from Milford to Pioche is now under progress of construction and when completed will open up a vast mineral country. He says DeLamar is a town of 1800 people and lighted with electricity throughout and has the appearance of a live go-ahead city. The DeLamar mine is one of the greatest ever opened up in the west and has one of the most improved cyanide plants in the country.

The April Fool mine adjoining the DeLamar mines is also a very valuable and extensive property and bids fair to be one of the great wealth producers of Nevada. The agricultural communities are prosperous, the mines affording a ready market for their products. The southern part of the county is semi-tropical and fruits of nearly every kind are raised in abundance also tobacco and cotton. Lincoln county promises to be in the near future, one of the greatest mining and agricultural centers in the western country.
